Mini Jeopardy!

Rebel's Puzzles

Rebel's Puzzles is a social experiment being conducted by Rebel's Dad on the patrons of Growlerz Trivia Night. He thinks this will be a fun addition to Caryn's awesome trivia questions. Like Rebel, Rebel's Dad responds well to feedback. Train him well.

TONIGHT'S PUZZLE

Tonight's puzzle is "Mini Jeopardy!" Four categories, four clues each. Each rounded square is a Jeopardy "answer" — you supply the "question." Rows are worth 1, 2, 3, and 4 points top to bottom (harder as you go down). Pick ONE clue in each row — no two from the same category — and complete the response as a question in the blank at the bottom of that category's column (each column is pre-led with its "Who is…?" / "What is…?"). Get it right: gain those points. Get it wrong: lose them. Then in Final Jeopardy, list every host you can: +1 for each correct, −1 for each wrong.

Example — pick ONE per row, answer as a question (all "What is…?" here)

1. The board

	SEATTLE NEIGHBORHOODS	TECH COMPANIES	ELEMENTS
1	This neighborhood trolls everyone else with their nickname "Center of the Universe"	It doesn't take a Wonder Woman to order from this e-commerce giant	Take a deep breath for this product of photosynthesis
2	A late 1800's census of Pioneer Square showed most women living there reported having this profession, despite there being a shortage of sewing machines	The fruits of this company include the iPhone and iPad	Don't slip! This yellow fruit is said to be a good source of potassium
3	Strangely, the neighborhood named after this former US Secretary of State does not include Alaska St.	Company whose Windows can be seen in Redmond, WA	Not just for party balloons, the US has a strategic reserve of this noble gas
	What is ——— ?	What is ——— ?	What is ——— ?

2. Circle one per row & answer

Mini Jeopardy!

Pick ONE clue in each row (no two from the same category) and complete the response as a question in the blank at the bottom of that category's column. Rows score 1–4 points top to bottom. Right = +the value; wrong = −the value. Then in Final Jeopardy, list every host you can: +1 each correct, −1 each wrong.

	DOGS	MOTHERS	CANADA, EH?	PEOPLE WHO HAVE NEVER BEEN IN MY KITCHEN
1 pt	This vocal breed also serves as the University of Washington mascot	Bart, Maggie, and Lisa are children of this Springfield woman	Along with French, one of two official languages of Canada	Before moving to Seattle to start his own sitcom, this Psychologist was a regular at Cheers
2 pts	These racing dogs are known for moving fast without the help of buses	Hardly radioactive, this Nobel Prize winner was the wife and mother to other Nobel Prize winners	This Scottish city shares its name with an upscale neighborhood in Ottawa and an island in the Nunavut Territory	Although he played a womanizer on Cheers, this actor has been married to Mary Steenburgen for more than 30 years
3 pts	These rescuers use the catchphrase "No job too big, no pup too small!"	Known as the father of the League of Nations, this president also signed the law establishing Mother's Day as a United States holiday.	Once produced by the Ohio Art Company, this classic toy is now owned by Spin Master of Canada.	This mailman, a regular at Cheers, had unexpected success on the game show Jeopardy, before losing it all on the final question.
4 pts	Originally called "Islands of the Dogs," this vacation spot was likely named after monk seals.	In Jewish myth, her children are said to be demons, but it was the child of her husband's second wife who was the world's first murderer.	Heading for the tropics in this geological period 56 to 34 million years ago would have meant visiting Canada.	This actress made the illogical choice to let her Star Trek character be recast and instead joined the cast of Cheers after the departure of Shelley Long.
